

- μ^* vanishes on all the Type II atoms.
- It is not necessary to display Type II atoms in the information diagram.
- In constructing the information diagram, the regions representing the random variables X_1, X_2, \dots, X_n should overlap with each other such that the regions corresponding to all the Type II atoms are empty, while the regions corresponding to all the Type I atoms are nonempty.